Exercise 1

1. The clear command (clears the screen) Type clear in the command line and press Enter
     - What do you notice?
2. Type the following commands one by one and press Enter
     a. ls -l
     b. ls -al
     c. ls -alt
        - Observe the output of above commands and reflect.
3. The date command (Display the system date)
     a. Type date in the command line and press Enter
        - What do you notice?
     b. Type Date in the command line and press Enter
        - What do you notice?
     c. Try options (u, s)
4. The cal command (Display the system date)
     a. Type cal in the command line and press Enter o What do you notice?
     b. Type cal 7 1776
     c. Try option*(m,y)*
5. Type the following commands one by one and press Enter
     a. date
     b. date +%m/%d/%y
     c. date +%H:%M:%S
        - What do you notice?
6. The who command (Shows who is logged into the server)
     a. Type who in the command line and press Enter
        - What do you notice?
7. The whatis command (a brief description of a command)
     a. Type whatis who in the command line and press Enter
        - What do you notice?